

THE CHEVRA SHMOOZE

And what a crazy week it truly was!! We started off the week on wheels and we ended it with CPW taking his cholent powered rocket to the moon. As we came to camp this Monday, we were all treated to the most amazing roller blading experience in the gym. Erez Wolfsett was spinning circles around Rabbi Sherman as he sped off at 100 mph around the rink. Rabbi Sherman buckled up his blades and got choked by the limbo rope as he tried going under. When they finally untangled him and the guy stopped yelling at him (ooooo yeeeeeaaahhh), he thought it would just be smarter to throw campers off a ramp. As the seniors and Shua Parnes came flying into the gym it was CPW who figured he would try skating for the very first time. He fell more than Niagara after high tide. He crashed more than the stock market in 87 and 08 combined. He hit the floor more times than an aravah on hoshanah rabba being wacked by the guy who needs to get off every leaf!! Anyway, the jumps and the rollerblading was awesome. As the leagues get rocking, we find ourselves being so happy that Akiva Deutch showed up. That's because now Kovi has one win...and 9 loses. Fleisher's fish market is not in first place as donkey Kong Kleiman keeps on winning and big Joe grow (now I feel like CPW) is demanding a trade!! On Tuesday we rocked out an amazing kichels game in camp. Now, you might think this is an only Friday night in the winter game with the family but you're wrong!! As my family said goodbye to our kichels game, (we knew it wasn't coming back home, kinda like CPW'S animal costumes which are everywhere, I really think he has a stash in his house that he keeps taking from. That, or he has a sign out sheet and makes you bring it back, but I don't think so. Sign out sheets are not his type. Maybe the sign out but not the sheet.) The entire junior division, with all of its relatives, (peak pre1a) paced the closed lunchroom for this epic and original (CPW) idea. The cards were hilarious, and Abie Halpert was doing his best with Yakov feet (CPW) to get the best cards for his bunk. As we got down to the final four it was peak who won it in the last round and took the kichels championship. They all got a free subscription to Mishpacha magazine which they all traded in for code red mountain dew's. Tuesday after camp the extreme group went on an amazing overnight to Six Flags New England. We packed the vans and were off on the 2-and-a-half-hour trip to six flags. We would like to take this opportunity to thank Rabbi Ferber and Erps respectfully for their contribution to the trip we couldn't have done it without you. As we got to the park, we all devoured our deli sandwiches and gulped down our mountain dew's and then it was off to the rides. The first ride we did was the Batman ride. After the 7 loops and 14 corkscrew we hobbled off the ride and made it to the exit. Remember those sandwiches we spoke about...it was then off to the amazing Riddler ride (which Rabbi Peikes was tricked into going on by Dovid Benjamin) and the Superman ride. Both were so crazy we just had to take a break. By a break I mean just sitting on these chairs that go 1489 feet into the air. Did I forget to mention that they also spin around at 67 mph. after those amazing rides and winning 3 huge peppers, it was time to load the vans for trip number two. We drove only an hour and a half to the Albany caves where we all got our sleeping bags and some of us our sleeping beds and settled down to sleep. Actually I settled down to sleep, rumor has it that Rabbi Peikes was up for a while longer as some of the kids were sleep challenged. The staff stayed up as well. The next morning after an amazing and inspiring (late) shachris we all had a delicious breakfast of fresh bagels and spreads and cereal and juice!! We then got our climbing gear and went caving and climbing. We zipped down the zip line and even got a chance to help others climb the crazy walls. At one o'clock we had a full lunch and then packed up to head back to camp. All I can say is it was an epic extreme trip and I'm happy to be back home in my cozy bed! Wednesday, we got Yitz back and boy were we happy. That's because we technically almost got health departmented (real word it means when the DOH comes to your camp it's a verb: the act of coming to be inspected by the health department) without our director again and that wouldn't be fun at all. The problem was that Rabbi Sherman was on the overnight, so we ran into two problems. Firstly, we had no one to stuff 85 souls on one bus. Secondly, we have no intelligence as to what happened at the amazing SKYZONE bounce place. I assume all the campers had an amazing time jumping all over the place and doing amazing flips. They probably also loved the claw game and the motorcycle racing thing. For more info about that trip check out Zisha Fortgang's article titled "I'm at my best friend's wedding so I couldn't write an article or go on the overnight or do the pool for the DOH or go to high exposure or..." will we ever see Zisha again? (Zisha: actually you will. Avrumi Saks was jumping all over the place on the best trip ever. Akiva Deutsch and Binyamin Heineman were doing triple flips, so was Eli Fleischer but he wasn't doing it on purpose. Dovi Saks was slam dunking on crazy high baskets and everyone was dodgeballing another Sherman word. Hide n seek in the foam pit was also fun. Now Back to Rabbi Sherman)On Thursday we actually got Health Departmented. Our good friend Charles came to visit us in Camp Chevra. The sports were just as crazy, and the fun activities were just as fun. Rabbi Original (cp's words) put together another great activity for the younger division. They played human connect four. This is when four kids who don't really know each other and have not become friends over the first six weeks of camp get together and sing songs and play Lego. It's all sponsored by the CCHF shalom project. After the kumbaya and achdus we played a different connect four. This was where every kid drags a chair up two or three flights of stairs depending on if you go through the back or the front. If you went through the back its three mini flights, one rock climbing hill, one grass hill and then you were there. Each boy would carry a balloon to his chair and sit down. If one bunk gets four in a row they win!! It was a pop because everyone got balloons and by the looks of the fields at dismissal none of them made it home. It was then off to the volleyball court where the staff would take on the head staff in a volleyball tournament. It started off competitively as the head staff let the young guys think they had a chance, but then it was all on for the HS and we dominated. We, the head staff won and therefore, as Zisha managed to say fourteen times before he ran off to his best friend's wedding, EVERYONE GETS SCRATCH OFFS!! The extra guys then got this delicious BBQ and were off to High Exposure in this wicked party bus!! The climbing and swinging from the ropes were amazing as camper after camper made it to the tops of the walls. They even got to do the new outdoor ninja warrior course and we are happy to say Shael Steinhart had an amazing time. They had an amazing time as they boarded the party bus blasting with music!! Friday is a beautiful day in camp where every boy got his own scratch off. There were grand prize winners won by Mulbauer and many many others.... You won a grand prize and you won a grand prize...its COLORWAR 2023!!!

Why Are You NOT Wearing A Suit?

By Sneaky Dubbs

Arguably my shortest article yet (this year at least) and yet it ironically included Thursday (in fact most of the fine print part was formulated over tisha bav too) which leaves us up to last week Friday and this is it. As was the case the entire three weeks, there was absolutely nothing happening in camp on Fryday, to the extent that rabbi pikis and rabbi shermun were bored enough that they invented a new concept (maybe they just decided there needs to be more that makes this summer different than other years) and they called it (they never actually called it this) SUNGLASSES BREAKOUT as follows. They were playing with the giant scale even though it had a huge do not touch sign on it (they didn't go on it but they chose representatives who weighed presumably the same amount) and then they said well if I win you all get sunglasses, (all the kids say, oh this must be some shtik cuz they got tons of glasses) allofasudden the screen was turned around (I'm impressed the screen went this long without getting broken ["I give it two weeks"- zisha on first day of camp]) and it said COLOR WAR!!!!!!!!!!!!!! (if you weren't there you're like wait it's color war? And Binyamin hinamin was so pumped) But rabbi pikes apparently didn't mean for it to happen then so he said we'll do color war a different day, and he just gave out sunglasses instead, (to everyone but Moishy kaplovitz) saying that anyone who wears them on munday gets in a raffle. ("this better be worth it we spent a dollar on each pair"- r'piqis and I'm like, you should let rabbi shermin teach you how to use ebay...) Then it was 1:03 and music played for 1.03 seconds before zisha said that we can't play music cuz now it's a game. Later we had a game and there was music cuz it was musical chairs and zishe made sure to sing all the music himself (get it cuz it was chasidish music) I was only there for a second that I slipped out of dancing at swikers with eliyahu Saltzman but from what I saw, ari Bernstein attempted to assassinate "DJ" Yossi nueman to get on a chair (now you know why we don't let kids play) I would know more if I was by more, but I wasn't ("ok you saw what the activity was, now go back to swikers"- r pikkiss) ("do I get a shoutout for winning?"- zevi jakobs. "no."-me) well I guess art has at least caused there to be special activity on Fridays. (Also on friday was cantata critique, where expert judges asked mr zegledi why it is raining inside amir I mean erez's room)

OK MONDAY!!!!!!!!!! (yitz is impressed) we looked out far and wide fore all the sunglasses wearing kids and true to his word, rabbi pikes made a raffle, between Yehuda balsam, levi balsam and avrumi Halberstam. The winner won off brand cornflakes. Rebsherm was so pumped about his new music and was rocking away to ein od milvado (2019) and now we know what toon he'll use for his NEXT song. We got bak in the POOOOOL and doniklimin clean shaved unicorn went for a swim, and Naftali Klein/chaim weiderman did impressive cannonballs. Then we had roler blayd, the floor was all wet from the spray bottle that everyone kept falling down and had to wear hair nets to keep out the dust. Rafi Weinraub wore one over his helmet too. Then we did the ramp and rabbi Sherman threw avrumi saks to the ceiling.

Now comes navi time, because every year we article writers (that's me and mordechai shmutter- true story, look in his book called jewish time) have moments when we say something and then something happens that makes it takes on new meaning (awk I should tell him it may just be because your art caused a change... whatev) SOOOO widout furdur adu: I was all (this was when rabbi sherme said his article would top all artickle, I say) yeah, kichels your going out of biznis" then rebbeshrim gets a twinkle in his eye and says, "you like the kichels?" and I say "yes I am an orthodox jew, thank you" so later we played THE kichels tm, we learned rabbi pikes will be agent emes when he grows up, rabbi shirm bought out all the leftover parve cholent and of course that "Donny" kleimin (he got offended his name was spelled wrong, I get a thank you for giving Yehuda Heinemann a shoutout last week spelling it "juda hinamin" (and I just did that cuz I was rushed and that's the fastest way to write it) happens to be I stayed for extra on Tuesday cuz rabbi wincelberg's car wasn't available till 5:30, but even at font size 10 (that used to be small even for the quotes!) and expanded textbox margins, I still don't think we have room SOOO have a totally fantastical FANTABULICIOUS WHAKADOODLE SHABBATTTT and I shall b seeingue..

p.s. - there are three of the C P Dubbs logo in 3 different places in camp - where are they?

ועתה ישראל מה ה' אלקיך שואל מעמך... (י:יב).
"Behold ישראל, what does ה' requests from you..."

This פסוק is the hint to the מצוה דרבנן of pronouncing מאה ברכות, one hundred blessings a day! Let us understand what this is all about.

Originally, this precept was enacted by משה רבינו. After time, it was partially forgotten and neglected. דוד המלך came along and reinstated it as a protection against a terrible plague that was killing one hundred men every day! The גמרא in מסכת מנחות (מג:) tells us that a play on words spells out this obligation. Read the פסוק replacing the word מה with מאה. "ה' requests one hundred (ברכות) from you!" The מפרשים struggle with the strength of this hint and offer many other hints found in the פסוק.

The בעל הטורים adds two other points here. Firstly, the פסוק itself contains a total of one hundred letters! Additionally, the word ממך has the numerical value of one hundred. Hinting to the fact that ה' desires one hundred ברכות, ממך, from you!

What is the understanding of all three of these hints? In a relationship, we have the opportunity to develop closeness by expressing gratitude and thanks. This is the way that people grow dearer, by recognizing and appreciating what the other provides for them and expressing thanks! Hence, in our relationship with ה' we make ברכות! ברכות are a vehicle through which we acknowledge all that ה' so generously provides us with! There are three requirements for this. The best thank you is expressed with the following three characteristics:

1. It is well thought out.
2. It is stated articulately and not mumbled.
3. It emanates from our own heart, and is not forced.

It is possible that this is what the three hints found in the פסוק express!

1. מאה and מה: The Berachos should be thought out, otherwise they are מה, not worth too much (Based on Sefer HaChaim)!

2. 100 Letters: This shows that it should be expressed clearly and not just sped through sloppily, just as every letter in the verse is important and expressed!

3. ממך: Hints to the idea that it must come from you!

These are the keys to the best ברכות and thanks to ה'!

In the building of the משכן, we find the appearance of the number one hundred in a unique place. There were one hundred sockets that held up the walls of the משכן. They were the foundation and ground support for the entire building. The purpose of the משכן was to provide a dwelling place for ה' in this world. Our job is to bring ה' into our lives as well. Hence, חז"ל established for us guidelines as to how to accomplish this bond. They gave us מאה ברכות which are the foundation for getting close to ה'! When we make a ברכה, we are thanking ה' and bringing down many more ברכות in return for our gratitude! Just as the sockets were the support and foundation of the Mishkan, so too מאה ברכות are the foundation of gratitude and support of our relationship with ה'. May we all merit that ה' should bestow His ברכות upon us in return for our proper adherence and care in making ברכות properly for Him!

Sincerely

Noam Peikes
